Hays Calls for a Full-Scale Probe of Alford Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) called today for a House investigation of whether his defeat in last fall's election by Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark.) was due to voting fraud.

Alford ran as a write-in segregationist candidate. Hays was the Democratic nominee and a veteran of 18 years in the House, called himself a moderate on the segregation issue.

Hays told a reporter he has informally advised Rep. Omar Burleson (D-Tex.) chairman of the House Administration Committee, that he believes an investigation should be ordered.

But Hays repeated previous assertions that he was not contesting Alford's seat in the House.

He said his stand in favor of an investigation was motivated by concern over the integrity of the ballot and by recommendations for such an inquiry made last fall by the now defunct special House Committee to investigate election campaigns.

"LITTLE ROCK (P) — The appointment of Deane Allen, news editor of the Arkansas Democrat, to be administrative assistant to Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark.) effective May 1, was announced here today.

Allen will succeed Claude Carpenter Jr. in Alford's Washington office. It was announced earlier this week that Carpenter had been reassigned as Alford's assistant in the 5th Congressional District with an office here.

Allen, 48, is a veteran of 30 years in the newspaper, public relations, advertising fields. He first joined the staff of the Democrat in 1928. For three years he was editorial director for the National Cotton Council at Memphis. He was Arkansas publicity director during part of the administration of former Gov. Ben C. Laney, and Mrs. Allen will move to Washington later this month.

Imon Bruce Is New Southern State Head

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Dr. Imon B. Bruce today announced his resignation as superintendent of Hot Springs public schools to accept the presidency of Southern State College at Magnolia.

His resignation is effective June 30.

The 48-year-old Bruce, a native of Eblevins, will succeed Dr. Dolph Camp as president of the college.

Camp resigned in February to take a post in the Office of Health, Welfare and Education at Washington.

No successor has been named for Bruce.

In a statement, Bruce said, "Although I regret leaving Hot Springs, the opportunity offered me at Southern State during this time when the college population is growing rapidly and the demands for higher standards of scholarship and service from the college is most challenging."

L. A. Westmoreland, chairman of the Hot Springs School Board, said after receiving the letter of resignation that it came as no surprise.

"I made a statement a year ago that the salary named in his new position was a fair one."

Hope Cemetery Asso. Appeals for Money

The Rose Hill Cemetery Association, Mrs. Vera M. Anderson, Chairman, has issued an appeal for all interested persons to send contributions to help care for the cemetery.

In the past this work has been done by the city. A cumb in city funds has left only enough money to pay for one full-time caretaker.

However, the city continues to furnish equipment, prison labor and administrative help.

"But it is necessary for all interested persons to contribute money if the cemetery is to be kept in good shape. No dues are assessed and each person is asked to contribute what they can."

Contributions should be sent to Miss Annie Jean Walker, Hope City Hall or any member of the committee which includes Mrs. Anderson, Mary Kim McDavitt, Harvey B. Barr, Lorene W. Hall, Johnnie McCabe, Jett P. Bundy and Mary W. Lester.

A full-time employee will be given on tonight at 8 o'clock.

Paul Guerin, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Guerin and Ann Randolph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Randolph were declared winners of ticket sales among the Brookwood, Paisley, Oglesby and Garland Schools and were crowned King and Queen.

At the second performance of the minstrel tonight, a King and Queen from the Junior High School will be crowned.

Miss Judy Kay Wright, High School Junior art student and the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Wright, was declared the winner in designing Hope's official flag and was presented a $50 check by the Kiwanis Club.

Judging of the flag contest, in which there were some 80 entries, were Miss Beryl Henry and Attorney Lester Gentry and Edward Lester, all former Hope citizens.

A cast of 80 persons appeared in the show in a wide variety of acts that kept the crowd amused and in laughter.

A "sleeper" role played by Crit Stuart who wasn't even listed on the official program, delighted the crowd in an outstanding specialty act that caught the crowd by surprise.

Ouachita Shifts High School Control

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — The control of Ouachita High School in Little Rock was shifted by Ouachita Baptist College to seven Little Rock businessmen yesterday.

Ouachita helped to organize the private school after Little Rock's four public high schools were closed last year to avoid integration.

Announcing the action of the college board, Ouachita President Ralph Phelps said trustees believe the school would operate more effectively "if it is in local hands completely."

Baptist High's new board of directors will be composed of Henry L. Wilburn, chairman; J. T. Harris, Frank Shamburke, John Shamburke, A. B. Wetherington, Charles Bolton and Bert Treadway.

Phelps said the college had intended from the first to withdraw its relationship after the school had been put on a sound basis.

Haifian Rebels Kill Pilot, Force Landing in Cuba

SANTIAGO, Cuba (AP) — Six Cuban rebels killed the pilot of a plane high over Haiti Thursday and forced the cockpit at gunpoint to fly them to eastern Cuba.

Among the 22 persons aboard when the rebels whizzed out pilots was one American, George Salling, 58, of Ridgewood, N.J. There was a brief but fierce struggle between crew and rebels, and the pilot, Eberle Guilbaud, was killed.

The rebels forced the plane to land at Santiago, Cuban headquarters for the Haitian revolutionary movement.

Cuban officials said the rebels made their move shortly after the plane had taken off from Aux Cayes in southern Haiti on a short flight to Port au Prince, the capital of the Negro republic 170 miles southeast of Santiago.

A report from Port au Prince said the plane is a DC3 owned by Consta, Haiti's only internal airline.

Both were wrong. They were reunited here this week.

A hunch by Mrs. O'Daniel's son C. A. O'Daniel, six months ago brought about the reunion.

O'Daniel moved from Arkansas to Houston and recalled that Mrs. Liles had moved to Honey Island, Tex., from her hometown of Perkins, Mo., in 1902. Mrs. Liles had been presumed dead when Mrs. O'Daniel's letters were returned from Honey Island after a 1915 tornado.

O'Daniel wrote the postmaster at Kordize, near Honey Island, and asked if Mrs. Liles were still living. The postmaster knew Mrs. Liles and gave her the letters from the O'Daniels. Mr. Liles said she had thought her sister had drowned because letters were returned after a flood at Corning in 1915.

This week Mrs. O'Daniel arrived from Arkansas by train. She was met by Mrs. Liles, who was visiting a daughter, Mrs. J. L. Johnson.

"They grabbed each other, but they couldn't say anything," Mrs. Johnson said.

Both sisters are visiting at the Johnson home.

The oldest of the team is its long-time pilot, Lt. Col. John Hersch Glenn Jr., 37, New Concord, Ohio. In 1957 Glenn made the first supersonic all-the-way transcontinental flight, setting a Los Angeles-New York record of 3 hours 23 minutes.

Each of the astronauts has two wings, an exception for Carpenter, with four, and Slayton, with one.

Enthusiastic approval by a large crowd greeted the opening performance of the 16th annual Kiwanis Club Minstrel last night in the auditorium of Hope High School.

A repeat performance will be given on tonight at 8 o'clock.

Paul Guerin, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Guerin and Ann Randolph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Randolph were declared winners of ticket sales among the Brookwood, Paisley, Oglesby and Garland Schools and were crowned King and Queen.

It was designed by Judy Kay Wright, who was presented a prize of $50 at the Kiwanis Minstrel last night, by Kiwanis president Mike Kelly.

Arkansan Finds Sister Wasn't Killed

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — For 44 years, Mrs. Ida O'Daniel of Corning, Ark., thought her sister, Mrs. Maybelle Liles, had been killed in a tornado. Mrs. Liles thought Mrs. O'Daniel had drowned in a flood.

Both were wrong. They were reunited here this week.

A hunch by Mrs. O'Daniel's son C. A. O'Daniel, six months ago brought about the reunion.

Yemen Mobs Start Stoning Communists

CAIRO (AP) — Mobs in the Arabian Peninsula kingdom of Yemen have taken up President Nasser's anti-Communist campaign and have stoned Soviet technicians.

The "primitive" little Arab kingdom's aging, ailing ruler, Imam Ahmad, is trying hard to escape from the powerful Communist bloc influence at work in his country since 1957, diplomats report.

Ahmed is now looking favorably toward the West.

Yemen joined Nasser's United Arab Republic in a loose federation in 1957 and adopted its leaning toward Moscow. Ahmed was embittered at the West because of border troubles with the British in their neighboring Aden protectorate. The Yemen ruler accepted offers of large Communist-bloc aid.

Large numbers of technicians arrived from the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia and Red China to direct a development program. A huge Soviet military mission followed shipments of tanks and heavy armor.

The situation held tremendous potential peril for the West, since Yemen's location at the southwest corner of the peninsula overlooks the Red Sea route from Europe to the Far East.

Last month, as the Reds grew stronger and stronger in Iraq, Nasser launched an all-out anti-Communist campaign. Cairo's "Voice of the Arab" radio station carried his message, the Yemenite masses. Soviet technicians and propagandists were stoned several times and the old ruler began to shift his course.

The United States has been allowed to open a permanent legation in Yemen for the first time. The Soviets have gotten so well entrenched in Yemen they won't be easy to dislodge. There is question whether Crown Prince Badr can shake off his personal pro-Soviet bias.

CHRISTIAN FORBEARANCE
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
Somewhere among my books is a large book by a distinguished author with the title "Intolerance."
With its account of the part that intolerance has played when some have sought to suppress others' most thoughtful persons would agree. Thoughtful persons today also would support the organized effort of all faiths to combat bigotries and prejudices that have gone far beyond mere words and attitudes.
It was, therefore, with something of a shock that in a recent issue of the Protestant paper
"Christianity Today" I found an article under the title "The Sin of Tolerance," by no less a person than the distinguished, evangelist, Billy Graham.
With the body of Dr. Graham's article and its main purpose one could not take exception. He was pleading against the apathy and "tolerance" of so many well-disposed people toward the crime and evil so prevalent and so threatening to the very foundation and safety of society itself.
That such a plea is needed is surely evident. How long could those things last if the decent part of the community were once aroused to action? But "tolerance" isn't the word that should be used, and Dr. Graham's use of it might do great harm that he never intended.
Dr. Graham's article may reach, but if Dr. Graham's pronouncement on tolerance as a sin reached a wide circle of readers I am under the impression that many of them would not read beyond the headline title. The inevitable result, I believe, would be to encourage the worst elements in the religious and social community in their intolerant bigotries, prejudices and campaigns of hatred.
Apathy and neutrality toward crime and evil are serious min-utars, but that doesn't make tolerance as such a sin, nor intolerance any less a violence against Christian forbearance and prochi-in principle, but too much neglect in fact.
Jesus was not intolerant of sinners, whom He won from their sin and to Himself by His just merits and love. Consider the courtesy and gentleness with which He treated the woman of Samaritan (John 4), though He knew all about her disreputable life, and He was feeling against social custom, and the intolerance that set Jew and Samaritan against each other, in prejudice not unlike that of much intolerance today.
Dr. Graham is a great and good man who has set a fine example in his preaching of the Gospel, but we wish he had not given the least encouragement to the intolerant, prejudiced elements in religious circles today.
Make no mistake about it. Tolerance is not a sin.

PCC to Buy a Radiation Counter

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Water Pollution Control Commission is planning to buy a radiation counter so employees can determine what radioactivity is in any — there is in the state's rivers and creeks.

Director M. L. Wood said there might be a "very slight amount" of radioactivity in some waters.

The state Health Department has a counter to test radioactivity in public water supplies. The commission will test waters not used to supply cities and towns.

Wood said the information obtained would be useful in future development, including use of new water supplies.

The work will start where the Arkansas River enters the state at Fort Smith and where the River flows into the Mississippi at Pen-

DOROTHY DIX

Two Sour Apples Infect an Entire Neighborhood

DEAR DOROTHY DIX:

This neighborhood situation has me disturbed. Three families are involved. A, B and C. The A's built a beautiful modern home, which attracts considerable attention, much to the envy and displeasure of the B's and C's. Mrs. A is slightly lame from a childhood attack of polio and has been hurt many times by the thoughtless-ness of others. Consequently, she avoids people and never imposes herself on anyone, which gives the impression that she is unfriendly. This isn't true. She's a very friendly person, kind and considerate, never a gossip, and up on her feet and doing every thing possible to make her feel unwanted. Mrs. B recently gave a shower for another neighbor and invited everyone on the block except Mrs. A. This sort of thing is being done by these two women all the time. Is there anything we can do to alleviate the hurt that Mrs. A must feel over the omission of should we ignore it? People like the A's are a real asset to any good neighborhood and we would regret losing them.

—DISTURBED

DEAR DISTURBED: Have Mrs. B and Mrs. C infected the whole neighborhood with the germs of malice? If everyone else thinks the A's are wonderful people, how can two nasty women sway the general opinion? Why not make your position clear. Instead of anonymously writing to me about it? Where's your spirit? Or is the quality as old-fashioned as the word? The gospel of good neighborliness and good fellowship is as quickly spread as the doctrine of ill-will. Call on each of the good neighbors separately, explain the situation to them as you did to me, and ask their cooperation in suching the nasty stories being spread by B and C. Enlist their help in making the A's feel wanted. Your little candle, lit by the flame of brotherly love, will spread its light and far outshine the torch of hate carried by B and C. Try it and let me know the result.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Last week I met Bill, a senior, and a dicton Perry near Dumas, Wood said.

Nelson Cox, director of the Game and Fish Commission, also said that employees of his commission were being trained how to check for radioactivity in case nuclear warfare should strike Arkansas.

any with a marvelous personality. He's very talented, plays the guitar and sings. I've already guessed I have a terrific crush on him. However, I can still see his faults. He's very ill-mannered, drinks quite a bit and is a reckless driver. I'm only 16 but I'd like to help Bill. How can I do about it—OLGA.

DEAR OLGA: The job of a reformer is not for a 16-year-old girl. Preserve your life and reputation by staying out of Bill's life. He sounds like an arrogant, conceited young man who expects adoration from everyone but who will give nothing in return. Stay home and listen to Roger Williams records. It may not be as exciting but it's much safer.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Does a child have the right to know the true circumstances of her birth? While my husband was overseas, I had an affair with another man. My husband came home in time to preserve the illusion of respectability but after my child was born, we were divorced. The child's father never knew she existed. Later I married again. My present husband knows the truth and has always been very understanding about it. My child, of course, assumes her father was about her father should I tell her about my ex-husband or her real father? My husband won't even discuss it with me. As far as his concerned, the child is his daughter—LUCRETIA.

DEAR LUCRETIA: You can

Vote Error Wipes Out Women's Majority

FULTON, Ark. (AP)—A live vote error in tallying election returns has wiped out the majority of the women of Fulton County, Ark. on the City Council.

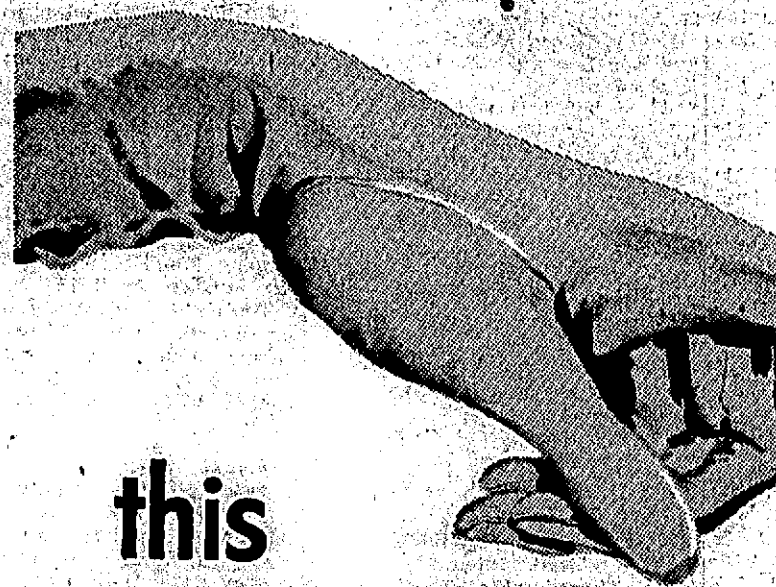

Instead, the council will be made up of three men and two women. But to keep things in balance, Fulton elected a woman mayor, Mabel Austin, 72, in Tuesday's balloting. She defeated May or Howard Post.

In the official canvass Wednesday night the 40-vote total reported for Mrs. Esther Watson, 60, running for the council, was tallied to 35. The result was Mrs. Watson dropped out of the running from third to sixth position in the race for five council seats.

Discovery of the error also set off another issue. John Clayton and Arthur Johnson each received 36 votes to tie for the fifth council seat. With Mrs. Watson dropping to sixth, both Clayton and Johnson became councilmen.

They have the happy ending to a story that could have ended quite tragically. Why should you around with me. Everybody's happy with the status quo, so don't spoil it. What would you gain by making your child unhappy? The truth is your secret. Keep it.

Arkansas Relays Attracts 40 High Schools

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Forty high school track teams will compete in three divisions of the Arkansas Relays tomorrow. The University of Arkansas, sponsor of the ninth annual edition of the meet, expects it to be the best in history.

About 650 athletes will take part in the day-long track and field carnival.

A wholesale assault on the record book is expected in the AAA, AA, A and 4-B divisions. Sixteen meet records already have been equaled or bettered by the bump of a foot or high school talent.

Clyde Hart, track coach at Little Rock Central High School, will be the official starter.

One of the best races of the day probably will be the A-B division mile run. Jim Cobb of McGehee has already posted a 4:34.8 clocking. The meet record is 4:52. Bobby Richardson of Peoria has been clocked in 4:46 and Lester Gilbreath of Siloam Springs has done 4:47.

Five others also have bettered the record.

Gary Brown of Texarkana, who has finished in 10:10 flat clocking in the 100-yard dash, has a chance for overturning the AAA record in that event of 9.8 seconds. Brown has run a 21 flat 220-yard dash, compared with the record of 21.7.

Jim Bob Weir of Fort Smith has a chance of bettering the AAA broad jump mark of 22 1/2. He has jumped 21 1/4.

Schools entered in the AAA division are Texarkana, Fort Smith, North Little Rock and Little Rock.

The Conway sprinters—Johnny Simmons and Carroll Winter—are given a good chance to crack the AAA record in the 220. Both have been timed in less than the 23.1 mark.

Wilbur Owen of Conway is a favorite in the AA 440-yard dash and low hurdles. He could crack records in both events.

Don Ketchum of Russellville could break his own record of 140.11 in the 440-yard dash. He has posted a 140.11 in the 440-yard dash, better than that this season.

Dale Kent of Malvern and Ricky Davis of Conway could snap the 5:10 high jump record.

The biggest record-wrecking is expected in the A-B division. Nine marks are in danger, including the three relays, Hughes, Fordyce, DeQueen and Atkins are expected to battle it out for the team title.

Rogers, Rogers, of Stamps, and Louis Thomas of Siloam Springs are considered tops in the 100-yard dash. Frank Estes of Fordyce is a favorite in the 220 and Marianna's Bobby Jones should break the high hurdles record of 16.0.

Ronnie Carter of Fordyce has posted a 20.8 clocking in the low hurdles and will be favored in that event.

Leslie King of Siloam Springs and Joe Chambers of DeWitt are

Oaklawn Does Not Want a Second Season

HOT SPRING (LAIU, OWI) (AP)—Prospects for a fall horse race meet at Oaklawn Park here appeared dead today after the Oaklawn Jockey Club said last night it would not request the additional meet.

The proposal for the fall season was made recently by a group of have-been-in addition to the long-standing spring meet recently concluded.

A state racing commission committee studied the proposal but had not made a report.

The Jockey Club remained silent on the proposal until last night, when it released a copy of a letter Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney, secretary of the state racing commission.

Cella said the club would not request a fall meet because the track would not be able to maintain proper standards at the additional meet.

He said "high quality horses, services and personnel" would not be available in the fall because of track operating elsewhere.

"It is for this reason and for this reason alone that we have reached our decision," Cella said.

State law gives Oaklawn 160 racing days a year, but only 31 are used for a meet in late February and March.

The proposed fall meeting had the support of Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who told a Hot Springs delegation he favored it if it would bring in additional tourists to the resort city.

The additional meeting was opposed by religious organizations at several cities around Hot Springs.

Cella said that if the situation changes in the future, the Jockey Club will reconsider the fall meet.

considered to have excellent chances of breaking the 7: A-B high jump mark. Siloam Springs Gene Anderson has exceeded the broad jump record with a jump of 21'9". The mark is 20'10 1/2.

The 40-team field is the largest in the history of the relays.

Senators and Redlegs Win Opening Games

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer

The 1959 baseball season is just one day old, but you have to figure the winter deal with Cincinnati that brought a left-handed pitcher to Pittsburgh was one the Pirates should have passed up.

Calm down. Not the trade that sent Frank Thomas to the Reds last winter for lefty Harvey Haddix, Don Hoak and Smokey Burgess. Wait until August to judge that one. Go back another winter and recall the swap that gave the Reds righthander Bob Purkey for southpaw Don Gross.

Purkey became Cincinnati's ace last year, winning 17, running up 17 complete games—and piling up a 30 record against his ex-mates, who surprised everyone by finishing second in the National League race.

That 1958 resurrection created all sorts of 1959 pennant fever in Pittsburgh, but the Pirates made a rather inauspicious start Thursday, losing 4-1 to the Reds—and Purkey.

In the American League's opener, right-hander Pete Ramos was backed up by a pair of two-run homers from Harm Killebrew and Rino Barba and the Washington Senators beat the Baltimore Orioles 9-2.

The pennant races really got rolling today.

In the National, Milwaukee's defending champion Braves sent southpaw Warren Spahn (22-11) against the Pirates' Bob Friend (22-14) at Pittsburgh. The Los Angeles Dodgers picked Don Drysdale (12-13) against the Cubs' Bob Anderson (9-3) at Chicago.

Two night-game openers find the San Francisco Giants at St. Louis with Johnny Antonelli (16-13) opposing the Cards' Larry Jackson (13-13) while the Reds' Don Newcombe (6-10) faces the Phillies' Robin Roberts (17-14) at Philadelphia.

In the American League, the world champion New York Yankees start the long haul for what they hope will be their 10th pennant in 11 years under Casey Stengel with Bob Turley (21-7) facing Tony Brewer (12-12) of the Boston Red Sox at Yankee Stadium.

The Chicago White Sox selected Billy Pierce (17-11) to meet the Tigers' Jim Bunning (14-12) at Detroit. Garry Bell (12-10) was Cleveland's choice against Bob Grim (7-7) at Kansas City. Baltimore and Washington are idle.

Ramos, the Cuban right-hander everyone wanted but whom the Reds decided to keep, struck out six, didn't walk a man and had the Orioles blanked on five hits until the ninth. Then Gus Triandos, who last year tied the AL record for catchers with 30 home runs, slapped a two-out homer after a leadoff double by Bob Boyd.

Killebrew and Barba, the ex-Tigers, hit their homers in the fourth inning off loser Jack Harshman.

The Orioles pulled off the first opening day triple play in major league history, but were a bit sloppy the rest of the time. They committed three errors before the Griffith Stadium crowd of 26,850 that included Vice President Richard Nixon.

Boyd started the triple play, snaring Ed Fitz Gerald's liner in the fifth inning, doubling Roy Sievers at second and then hustling back to first to get shortstop Chico Carrasquel's return peg that caught rookie Bob Allison.

Boston Makes It 4 in Row in Pro Playoff

By JIM KLOBUCHAR MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) (AP)—

Boston's irresistible Celtics, professional basketball's most powerful of heroes to salute today and none more worthy than Frank Ramsey and Bill Sharman.

Ramsey and Sharman delivered the knockout wallop against Minneapolis Thursday night in a 118-113 Celtic victory that brought the National Basketball Assn. title finals to a merciful conclusion.

It meant a four-game sweep of the finals for Boston; the first such shutout in the NBA, and $12,000 in the players' till.

Minneapolis collected $7,000 but still is looking for its first victory over Boston since March of 1957, a span of 22 games.

Sharman, one of the gilded old pros of the NBA, rolled back the Lakers' last stab at overtime early in the fourth period and Ramsey slammed the door for keeps in the waning minutes.

It was appropriate that the former Kentucky star should be in on the kill. Through 11 games of the Eastern and championship playoffs he had come off the bench time and again either to light a fire under the Celtics or put one out that the opposition had started.

Sharman bagged 20 points, Ramsey 14 and Tommy Heinsohn 22. Elgin Baylor, once more playing with the form that made him a terror in the Western playoffs, hit 30 for the Lakers.

Behind Vern Mikkelsen, Baylor and Bob Leonard, the Lakers kept it close all the way, trailing only 64-62 at halftime and 88-87 at the third quarter turn. Baylor prodded the Lakers into the lead at 95-93 early in the fourth quarter, but Sharman and Ramsey took over here and escorted Boston out of danger.

News Briefs
CHICAGO (AP)—Mayor Huang Chi-jung's neighbors have petitioned him to move to some other part of the city.

They believe if he does, they'll have a chance of getting their muddy, potholed street paved. The mayor has refused to approve a resurfacing job for fear people will think he puts his own welfare before the city's.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Atgerian rebel Premier Farhat Abbas said today he has come to India to seek "guidance" from Prime Minister Nehru.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey thinks the Army tends to look at a prospective draftee in chunks rather than appraising the man as a whole. He doesn't think it's good.

"The result," said Hershey, head of the Selective Service, "is that the psychiatrist kicks out one man because he thinks he is a little dumb."

"The foot man thinks he is flat-footed."

Science has tended to get ways to measure what is wrong with us and hasn't gotten ways to measure what is right with us and what is what counts."

Hershey's testimony before a House Appropriations subcommittee was released today. The subcommittee is studying next year's budget for the Selective Service system.

Man to Trial for Murder in Georgia

CEDEARTOWN, Ga. (AP) — William Hoyt Ledford charged with slaying a man in Georgia and dumping the body in Arkansas is scheduled to appear before Superior Judge W. A. Foster next week on a petition filed by his attorneys.

Judge W. A. Foster Jr. yesterday fixed April 16 for the hearing on a claim that Ledford is being held in jail in violation of his constitutional rights.

Ledford's attorneys also claim that Polk County officers possess statements against Ledford that are being kept secret until his scheduled trial May 5. The attorneys say that is also a violation of constitutional rights.

Ledford, 42, and Mrs. Loraine Tate Stanga, 40, are charged with slaying a man in the shooting last fall of Virgil Glenn Gray, 40-year-old Lawrenceville undertaker's assistant.

The pair were arrested in Botham, Okla., in Gray's car. Ledford and Mrs. Stanga each accused the other of shooting Gray. Ledford said Gray was killed near Cedartown after he knocked him out while the pair robbed him in Mrs. Stanga's apartment; then put him in the trunk of the car. The body was dumped near Van Buren, Ark.

Ledford's attorneys also claim statements obtained in Oklahoma and elsewhere were obtained by force and duress. They said no substantial or legal evidence was submitted to the grand jury that indicted Ledford and that keeping him in jail is in further violation of his constitutional rights.

Woman Takes Stand in Murder Case

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas returned to the witness stand today, after a day and a half of legal and political confusion, to tell how she killed her fickle, married lover.

The trial was resumed for the third time after the July 31 shooting of playboy executive Forrest "Red" McCall, although two persons had been named clerk of the court.

Two Marion County commissioners added to the confusion by naming their own clerk in opposition to the clerk named Wednesday.

While the uproar spread through the "ancient" court house, Judge Thomas J. Faulconer took matters in his own hands and gave an "acting clerk" designation to Edwin McClure, the appointee of Gov. Harold W. Handley.

Commissioners Eph Vint and Lester (Bull) Durham named Mrs. Harry J. Gasper, widow of the clerk who died Tuesday night, as their choice for clerk.

About the same time, the commissioners were ordered to appear this afternoon before Circuit Judge John Niblack to show why they should not sign McClure's $100,000 surety bond.

McClure got the writ from Niblack when he got the signature of only one commissioner, J. Wesley Brown, the chairman of his bond. He needed two.

Grenade Explodes in P. B. Classroom

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — An unidentified object, believed to be a grenade, exploded in the classroom of a Negro elementary school near Pine Bluff today, tearing off the hand of a boy who was playing with it.

Two other boys in the 25-pupil classroom at the Barnes Memorial School were injured.

A school official said the boy, Earl Ray Bailey, about 10, had brought the object to school with him. After the pupils had returned from a mid-morning recess, the boy was holding the object while sitting at his desk and sticking a pin in it.

Extent of the injuries suffered by the other pupils could not be determined immediately. The three boys were hospitalized at Pine Bluff.

The sheriff's office said it had asked experts from the Pine Bluff Arsenal to help in an investigation.

PSC Authorizes AP&L Stock Sale

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Public Service Commission today authorized Arkansas Power & Light Co. to sell $7,500,000 of preferred stock to help finance a $9 million dollar construction program.

Most of the money will be spent on a new steam generating plant at Helena and on transmission facilities.

Crown Prince Akihito told a reporter for the Kyodo News Agency that his feeling for Michiko Shoda turned to love after he chose her to become the first commoner in history destined to share the chrysanthemum throne.

The news quickened the pulses of millions of Japanese caught up in the preparations for the wedding today of the prince and Miss Shoda.

WARRIOR BASIN

by LESLIE ERNENWEIN

THE STORY: Jim Furlong used a gun to defend himself against Cleo Veto, foreman of the Empire ranch, and to collect $130 in wages from Veto. Furlong is to be off the range by tomorrow. On his way home to his cabin he stops to see Fern Lindstrom, a young woman who is trying to maintain a ranch.

(My father bowed to Jules Furlong. Fern said soberly, "It was because of my mother. She begged him to be tolerant of the restrictions Empire placed upon him, to discard his ambition for more cable and more land, so that he would not be hurt. But the hurt was worse for my father who wanted always to be his own man.")

Fern used a rein end on the off horse's rump; presently she inquired, "Did Grace Kimble change you?"

"Not much," Furlong admitted. Fern thought about that, absently urging her team up a steep, rock-studded ridge. As if thinking aloud, she said, "I could not tell a man what he should do. He has to choose for himself. A woman cannot think like a man, nor feel the things a man feels. A man has one kind of pride, a woman another kind. My mother didn't know that. She talked her husband into accepting a woman's way. After that he was not really a man, and so he died."

"Your father wasn't the only one who abided by Empire's rules against spreading out," Furlong said.

Afterward, crossing a broad meadow where cattle grazed, she asked, "Were you here when the Pacer outfit came from Mexico?"

"Before my time," Furlong said. "A tent showed whitely on the north side of the meadow; beyond it, where a considerable number of pines had been felled, a man worked with an axe—Mace Gillum, who'd come to Warrior Basin a month ago."

"This," Fern said, "is where the Pacer outfit was to have its headquarters. There were four men with 1,000 head of cattle and the hope of building homes. They had one cabin started, in defiance of Pardee's orders. When the trouble started, my father was asked to join their fight against Empire, but he didn't. Nor did any of the others. Three of the Pacers were killed. Only one escaped alive, and he was wounded."

When the wagon came to the clearing, Mace Gillum put down Fern said bluntly, but her fingers his ax. A heavy-muscled man in his early twenties, he used a bandana on his blocky, perspiring face.

Gillum then appraised Furlong's damaged face with obvious interest and inquired, "You get stomped by a shod bronco?"

Furlong nodded, not wanting to discuss his troubles with a veritable stranger. Observing that freshly trimmed legs had been added to the old unfinished structure here, he said, "Supposed to be bad luck, finishing a dead man's cabin."

Gillum had been wholly relaxed and smiling; now some secret resentment tightened his features and he said harshly, "I'm not superstitious and I don't scare easy."

Fern asked, "Has Cleo Veto paid you a visit?"

Gillum nodded, giving Furlong a deliberately calculating regard before saying, "Veto gave me to understand that Empire likes small neighbors—the smaller the better. He acted as if I was a squatter on Empire land."

"That is Veto's way," Fern agreed, and waited for him to say more. When he remained frustratingly silent, she said, "Good luck," and drove on.

Covertly studying this brusque, shaggy-haired man who shared the seat with her, Fern wondered if he would leave Warrior Basin, and hoped he wouldn't.

As if thinking this out for himself, Furlong said, "One man couldn't whip Empire, but he could fight them, little by little. He could burn two Empire line camps for his burned cabin. He could shoot five Empire cows for each cow of his they shot."

"But Empire would catch up with such a man eventually," Fern predicted.

"If he stayed too long, perhaps. But the man could choose his time for leaving. It would not be Empire's choice, but his own."

That pleased her. It brought a smile to her long lips and she said earnestly, "My father would have done it so, if he had been a single man."

Afterward, helping her tote the wagon's cargo of supplies into her log house, Furlong saw how spotlessly clean the kitchen was; its shelves trimmed with red and white oilcloth and the whole room revealing a woman's knack for cheerful neatness.

While she doctored his cuts with disinterest, Furlong asked, "Don't you get lonesome, living by yourself?"

"You should know the answer," Fern said bluntly, but her fingers

Johnson Gets on Same Side as Unemployed

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Swift political footwork by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson has put him on the side of the unemployed for whatever 1959 may hold in store.

His action tended to increase earlier criticism of his leadership in Congress' extension of an emergency jobless pay program last month.

Johnson, who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for his party's next presidential nomination, made his move during the course of a full employment rally Wednesday sponsored by the AFL-CIO.

He introduced in the Senate and announced at the rally—a proposal for an 11-member commission to "take a first-hand look at unemployment and report to Congress within 60 days what to do about it."

Those who know Johnson best are confident the party leader will win Senate approval of the measure quickly. His close liaison with Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) indicates similar House action. It probably would be embarrassing for President Eisenhower to veto such a bill.

Johnson's burst of energy in this field seemed calculated to blot out any impression that he was indifferent to the plight of the unemployed.

That was the impression Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.) gave whether intentionally or not. In recent criticism of what he said was Johnson's failure to take a proposal to broaden provisions of the jobless pay bill.

McNamara said Johnson was neither for nor against an amendment to keep unemployment compensation rolls open for applications until July 1. The Senate approved this amendment but it was knocked out in a compromise with the House.

Johnson told the labor rally "I do not pretend to be satisfied with the emergency, stop-gap unemployment compensation measure that Congress has passed. It did not nearly begin to meet our needs."

were caressingly gentle in applying the ointment salve, and when that was done, she asked, "Will you stay for supper?"

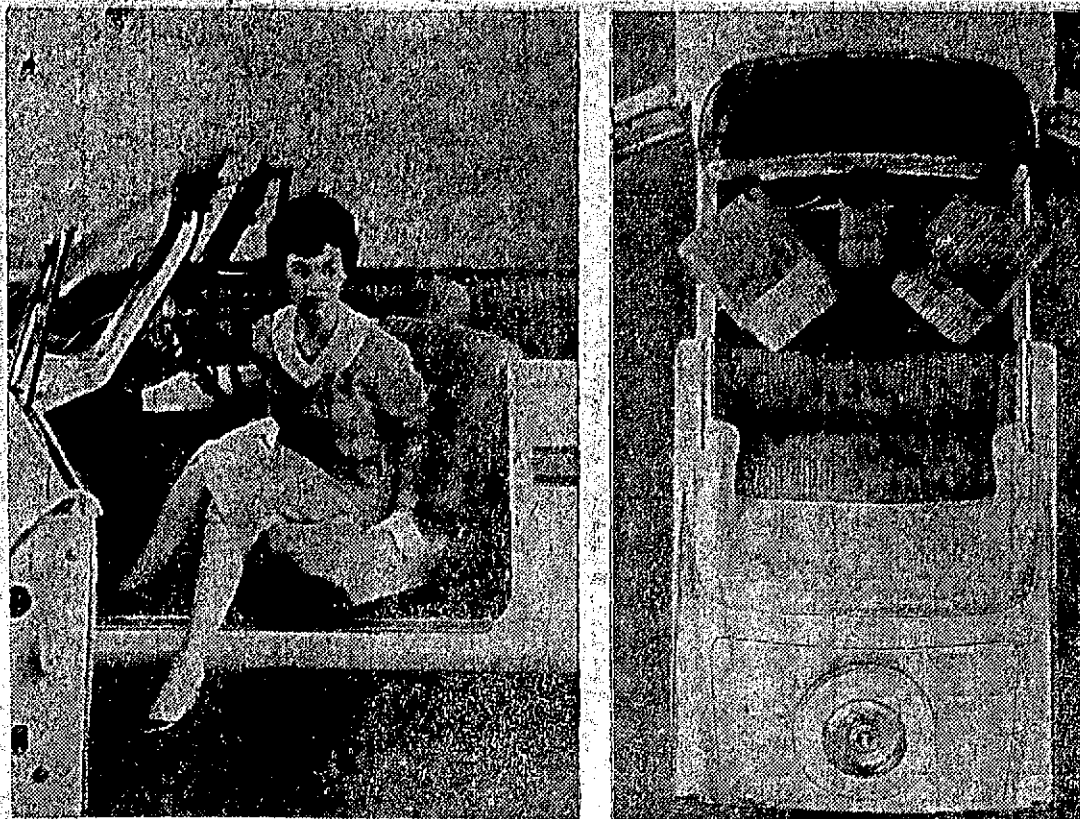

For a moment he was tempted to accept. But then he shook his head. "Got things to do before dark," he said.

Fern walked out to his pony with him. When he got into saddle she said quietly, "Good luck, Jim."

It was an odd thing. He had never considered her to be pretty, and she wasn't now, but there was something hugely attractive about this tanned, supple woman whose oval face held a faintly smiling wisdom—whose eyes met his so unwaveringly. In this moment it occurred to him that Fern Lindstrom and Grace Kimble were opposites in everything except that they were both female.

Swivel Front Seats on 1959 Plymouth

A major development in automobile seating arrangements is the introduction of swivel front seats in the 1959 Plymouth. Driver and front seat passenger can now pivot the seats outward when entering or leaving the car. Each seat pivots independently of the other. The seats swivel when a lever is lifted in the seat shield, releasing a spring which swings the seat outward on rollers a full 40 degrees. The seats automatically lock in place when returned to normal position. An arm rest between the driver and front seat passenger may be folded back when three persons wish to ride in the front seat.
